PROPERTY REPORT

New to CPC, Session, and Building and Grounds, I have quickly been getting up to speed. This is one of those "learn as you go" kinds of enterprises but luckily I am a quick learner! I also have great guidance in Barb, Cal, Diana, Bev, and Russ and Pam (as well as others)!

So far we have; executed major tree work and general cleanup of the grounds, ant abatement, review of standard documentation including site rental docs, installed new AC units, hired a new janitorial service and provided a new CPC vacuum, done "major" weeding in the parking lot. The weeds were taller than me and with roots the size of my forearm! We also hosted a very successful work day in March!

Upcoming projects include but will not be limited to: assessment of windows in the Fellowship Hall, possible lighting changes for efficiency and aesthetics, leak prevention and possible roofing of the hall, and upgrades to interior décor and exterior painting. Some of these things will require fundraising so you've been warned...!

There are plenty of opportunities for people to get involved with the Property Commission. We'd love to have you so if you're interested, please let me know.

The garden is new every day!

Many thanks to Pat R. for her hard work cleaning and organizing the CPC library! Come in and see the progress and marvel at the antique books that she found hidden behind others on the shelves. She also found a crystal cross. It's a mystery!
